

the old 7th and tenor bells were re-cast and 1st and 2nd bells added, at a cost of over £500: the tower and arches supporting it, the two principal doorways and some of the windows are Norman work: the font, similar in many respects to that in Winchester Cathedral, consists of a single block of black slate hollowed into a basin, and supported on a circular central shaft, surrounded by four others, with caps, but without bases: on the north and east sides are carved representations of the creation of man, the formation of Eve, the eating of the forbidden fruit, and the expulsion from Paradise, and one of an angel teaching Adam to dig and Eve to spin: the pulpit, dated 1706, and formerly in Holy Trinity church, Minorities, London, was brought here by the Rev. E. M. Tomlinson M.A. vicar of that church 1877-89, and of East Meon 1889-1901: there is a memorial window to the late Mrs. Forbes, of Bereleigh: the alabaster reredos is in memory of Mrs. Hayward: the church was restored in 1870, at a cost of £4,000, and in 1906 the interior was altered and renovated, the flooring being lowered to the original level, the lady chapel separated from the chancel by a carved oak screen, new clergy stalls erected and the aisles and chancel repaved, at a cost of £1,600: there are 417 sittings. A new lych gate was also erected as a memorial to the late H. A. W. Batten esq. The register dates from the year 1560. The living is a vicarage, net income £410, with 13 acres of glebe and residence, in the gift of the Lord Chancellor, and held since 1901 by the Rev. Thomas H.

LEL 7: 1915

Mr. George Darvill. The soil is various; subsoil, clay and chalk. The chief crops are wheat, barley, oats and some land in pasture. The area is 8,818 acres of land and 5 of water; rateable value, £6,342; the population in 1911 was 1,013 in the civil and 963 in the ecclesiastical parish.

OXENBOURNE, a tithing, 1 mile south-east; COOMBE, 2 miles south-west; Riplington, 1½ miles north-west; and Peak, 2½ north-west. On the downs are many barrows, and on Old Winchester Hill is a camp.

Langrish, Ramsdean and part of Bordean tithings form the civil parish of Langrish, which will be found under a separate heading.
